WEEK OF BLOCKED LEGISLATION AT THE MISSOURI CAPITAL.

Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 28.—Most of this week has been wasted in wind-jamming debate and caucusing that has been too long deferred. That the House has been well out of the Speaker's control for several days is taken as a text by some of the old-timers for a sermon on the necessity for early caufirst important legislation. One of the most experienced of the leaders here said today that he had advised Whitecottem of the present trouble weeks ago, and that proper care at the outset would have saved all of the time that has been lost. Another legislator, admitting all that the first said, added en having a trying time of it. He shows his annoyance not only in what he says, but in the manner of saying it. He has feit, for wo or three days, that he would have the situation in hand by this morning, but the vote on several questions last night devel-oped some added strength in the ranks of the so-called Filipinos.

Representative Oliver of Cape Girardeau, who was at one time a Senator, has occu-pled an interesting and peculiar position. He has been directly opposed to the econ-omy policy of the Governor, mainly for the reason that he sacrificed personal interests to come to the Legislature on behalf of the Cape Girardeau Normal, for which he has asked for a quarter of a million dollars to be used in rebuilding the structures destroyed by fire. He has had several personal interviews with the Governor, at each of

Mr. Oliver, who is one of the most interesting men of the Assembly, has thought of little aside from his measure to secure money for the Cape Girardeau school. All of his Assembly friendships have been of the most cordial character, so that when the test came yesterday he had votes to spare, and he got them alike from Regular and Filipino. Mr. Oliver is a very busy man in his home town, but, when he was asked to represent the county in the Legislature, having been picked as the available asked to represent the county in the legis-lature, having been picked as the available man for the appropriation task, he gave up his business and put his shoulder to the political wheel with an energy that seems in a fair way to bring all the results his partisans have ever asked Bentonville, Ark., Feb. 28.—For twenty days a faithful dog stood guard over the body of A. E. Perkins, formerly of Kansas City, who had been murdered at his home, nine miles north of here. The crime was only decovered to-day. It is supposed that he was killed in his nouse, probably while asleep, and then his body thrown into the brush.

The body showed that he had been dead for several days, probably three weeks. for several days, probably three weeks.

Mrs. Perkins, a young and attractive woman, and Perkins's adopted son, Will J. Powell, a hero of the Spanish-American. War, have left the country. They were seen here February 9 and left Rogers over the Frisco Rallroad, going south, leaving their wagon and team at that place.

Perkins was about 69 years old. He was a man of considerable intelligence and was well thought of by his neighbors. The house was better furnished thun most of those in the community.

For days the few who passed noticed that the house seemed deserted and no living thing was in sight around the premises except a large dog, which slunk about in the bushes near the house and growled hercely when any one approached.

The prolonged absence of the family at last awakened suspicion and to-day some of the neighbors made a search. The dog, emaciated by his leng vigil, permitted them to approach close enough to see the body of I erkins hidden under the bushes.

An examination showed that his skull was fractured in the back, and there was a severe wound in the right temple. The recent cold weather had helped preserve the body, so that there was no trouble about identification or in discovering the cause of death.

Many members are watching the course of this bill with some anxiety. According to the Kansas City newspapers, a slush fund of $5,000 has been raised to "grease" the passage of this Leonard bill. Since the siot-machine amendment to the Johnson law, otherwise known as the gaming law, was passed two years ago, with felony clauses, there have been very few slot machines operated in St. Louis or Kansas City. The felony clause has been responsible. Although there have been no convictions or violations in St. Louis, saloonkeepers have been very careful to keep from the jurisdiction of the Circuit courts.

If the Leonard bill is passed, the Court of Criminal Correction will take care of violations in St. Louis. The saloonkeepers do not fear the minor court as much as the one which can send them to the Penitentiary.

than $50 nor more than $20 for each succe-quent offense.

The bill by Colden of Nodaway for the establishment of a home for dependent and indigent children was engrossed. It author-izes an appropriation of $10,000 from the general revenue for the erection of a suit-general revenue for the erection of a suitable building.

Farley's bill to prevent the sale of morphine, cocaine of chloral except upon the written prescription of a physician, was killed by the adoption of an amendment offered by Huck of Ste. Genevieve, striking out everything in the bill after the enacting clause. The vote stood 32 to 17, the city members voting in the affirmative.

The bill was then laid over informally. The bill by Elmer of Dent to repeal the capital punishment law and to make life imprisonment the only penalty for murder in the first degree was engrossed, but was first amended by Huck to allow of either punishment in the discretion of the jury.

Indian Territory Citizenship Mat ter Carried to Supreme Court.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Ardmore, I. T., Feb. 25.—Present indications with reference to Indian citizenship matters point to the greatest legal fight this country has witnessed for years.

Messrs. Herbert and Cruce, citizenship atterneys of this city, are in Washington preparing a bill which will be filed in the Supreme Court of the United States on March 6 in which they ask that court to grant a writ of prohibition restraining the Choctaw-Chickasaw Citizenship Court from setting acide citizenship judgments rendered by Judges Townsend and Clayton of the Southern and Central districts of the Indian Territory.

The contention of the attorneys is that the congressional act making the Citizenship Court one of last resort in the trial of citizenship cases is unconstitutional and will be set aside. Judges of the Citizenship Court have received official notices that the proceedings would be filed in the Supreme Court.

Macon, Mo., B. 28.—W. T. Cason, a well-to-do Maconounty farmer, is paying dearly for a littlinadvertence in making a deed a few yeal ago. He sold a Laclede County farm a 160 acres to T. M. Humphrey for ko.

When Humphr came to close the deal he wanted to git a deed of trust on the property for $1,20 or the balance due. This was agreeable a as a matter of form, Cason named his-year-old son. Raleight Z., as mortgage The boy had no title in the land, and his me was used without a thought of trout the debt was really to Cason. But will the time came to pay the interest Humrey would not pay it to Cason until he swed a legal right to receive it. So don had to go into the Macon Probate art and have himself appointed his son turator. He had to put up a bond for 50. Until the boy is of age he will have make a faithful return of his stewards every year to the Prohate Court.

On paper the mortgage belongs to Raleigh, and he in force the father to account to him every cent of principal and interest win he becomes of age. Should the fait die the only protection to the legal riss of the other children would be T we cutting Raleigh's share down to $1.500 it than the others.

"I never thout a liftje thing could give a fellow so my trouble," said Mr. Cason to Probate Ji. Buster. "I supposed Humphrey on Just hand me over the money as it be me due, and I'd put it in my pocket. N. I'll have to come up here and let you so intze everything I do for six years. Whi it's more bother than the thing is worth.

Humphrey a Cason are the best of friends, and it farmer's only reason for putting the Jon County man to the trouble of, ac as curator for his own property was ake his investment legal-ly safe.
